Early Career Framework

The Teaching School Hub will support you in ensuring that a robust and supportive approach is available for all teachers at the start of the career as well as those that are part way through induction.

The Teaching School Hub has conducted a rigorous process of due diligence, alongside our partners, to select the most suitable provider for Lincolnshire.

Education Development Trust (EDT) has been selected and will be the lead provider for the Teaching School Hub in Lincolnshire moving forwards.

Is your school ready for the ECF roll out?

Will you have an Early Career Teacher (NQT) in September 2021?

The Teaching School Hub are running ECF ready events from this week to support schools in what the ECF entails and what to do next if you have an Early Career Teacher – ECT (previously known as NQT)– starting with you in September 2021. Support will also be given with regards to those current NQTs that will not have completed induction by summer 2021.

NPQ's are changing from September 2021

Working with partners, the Teaching School Hub will play a central role in the delivery of the reformed NPQs within Lincolnshire from September 2021. The suite of NPQs will include revised programmes for NPQSL (Senior Leadership), NPQH (Headship) and NPQEL (Executive Leadership). There will also be an additional support offer for new Head Teachers - NPQH Additional Support for New Head Teachers available.

The existing NPQML (Middle Leadership) has been replaced with three new specialist NPQs:

- NPQ – Leading Teacher Development – supporting the training and development of teachers
- NPQ – Leading Teaching – developing subject leaders or phase/key stage leaders
- NPQ - Leading Behaviour and Culture – developing those teachers who have a responsibility for leading behaviour and culture

After a similarly robust process of selection, the Teaching School Hub, alongside partners, have chosen Education Development Trust (EDT) to also be the lead provider for NPQs for Lincolnshire. We believe the decision to choose EDT as Lead Provider for ECF and NPQ will support schools with smooth transition when achieving the “golden thread” of development from ECF through to NPQ.
