Your guide to the Lincolnshire Early Career Framework & Appropriate Body Provision

'Working in Partnership, achieving the highest outcomes for all'

Introduction

L.E.A.D. Teaching School Hub has been designated as a Teaching School Hub for Lincolnshire. The Hub is working in partnership to deliver high quality support, guidance and services to schools and settings across Lincolnshire with the single aim of developing teachers in the first two years of their career to a high standard, ultimately impacting upon pupils.

The Teaching School Hub is proud to be working with a number of delivery partners including previously designated Appropriate Bodies, to deliver this offer across our region. Many of these partners will be familiar in supporting NQTs throughout their first year of teaching.

As a Teaching School Hub, we are delighted to offer our support for Early Career Teachers (ECTs) through the Full Induction Programme with Education Development Trust (EDT) and through our Appropriate Body (AB) induction services.

Overview

After a challenging year for trainee teachers, it is more important than ever new teachers receive the best possible support at the start of their careers. This change is to indicate the DfE's intention to offer a robust package of training and support which extends on the core content framework (CCF) delivered during ITT programmes, developing into the Early Career Framework (ECF). Both programmes set out an entitlement to new evidence-based support and training over the first three years of an Early Career Teacher's career, as well as funding and support for their mentors.

The Early Career Framework reforms are designed to ensure that Early Career Teachers develop the skills and confidence they need. If your school offers statutory induction, you will need to replace your current induction process and we would suggest the best route would be through offering a DfE approved and fully funded programme of professional development and support.

New for September 2021

The table below lays out the main changes you will see for September 2021.

EARLY CAREER FRAMEWORK REFORMS: WHAT'S CHANGING?

From September 2021, statutory induction arrangements are changing. These new arrangements will replace current induction requirements.

	Current arrangement	From September 2021
Length of support	1 year	2 years
Timetable reduction	10% reduced timetable for one year	10% reduced timetable in Year One 5% reduced timetable in Year Two
Content	No defined content	Induction should be based on the Early Career Framework
Role of the mentor	Role of the mentor not defined as separate from the induction tutor	Access to two years of support from a designated mentor separate from the induction tutor
Assessment	Marked against Teacher Standards Three assessment points	Marked against Teachers' Standards Two formal assessment points - supported by regular process reviews Early Career Framework is not an assessment tool
Funding	Funding for induction included as part of core school budget	Schools will receive additional funding to deliver ECF-based induction to fund the additional activity in the second year
ECT Pay	Following first year, teachers can progress up the pay scale	Still be able to progress on the pay scale as current arrangements allow, both during and after induction
Role of the Appropriate Body	Checking new teachers receive statutory entitlements and are fairly and consistently assessed	Checking new teachers receive statutory entitlements and are fairly and consistently assessed and receive a programme of support and training based on the ECF

KEY: ECT (Early Career Teacher)

Additionally, as of September 2021, the term NQT (newly qualified teacher) will no longer be used to indicate a teacher that is new to the profession; this will be replaced with Early Career Teacher or ECT, referring to a newly qualified teacher in their first or second year of induction. This change is to indicate the DfE's intention to offer a robust package of training and support which extends on the core content framework (CCF) delivered during ITT programmes developing into the Early Career Framework (ECF). Both programmes set out an entitlement to new evidence-based support and training over the first three years of an Early Career Teacher's career as well as support for their mentors.

Early Career Framework (ECF) based training is expected to be embedded as a central aspect of induction; it is not an additional training programme.

What is the Early Career Framework?

The Early Career Framework is the evidence base which underpins this new entitlement for Early Career Teachers' professional development. It sets out what all Early Career Teachers should learn about and learn how to do during the first 2 years of their careers.

Five core areas of the ECF

- Behaviour Management
- Pedagogy
- Curriculum
- Assessment
- Professional Behaviours

What are our options?

You will have three ECF options:

- L.E.A.D. Teaching School Hub will be offering this fully-funded free of charge programme in partnership with Education Development Trust.
- The School delivers their own training using DfE-accredited materials and resources. This is the Core Induction Programme (CIP). This package must be 'fidelity checked' (to use a DfE phrase) by the Appropriate Body.
- The school designs and delivers their own ECF-based induction. This package must be fidelity checked by the Appropriate Body.

See below for a matrix to aid your decision-making process

Please note, schools are free to select the option that suits them, however the DfE are signposting schools to the Full Induction Package - which we term The Golden Package - accessible via us as your area's Teaching School Hub.

The role of the Appropriate Body

Appropriate Bodies (ABs) will continue to play an important role in statutory teacher induction. As they have always done, ABs will be expected to check that all teachers are receiving their statutory entitlements, and they will continue to have their role in quality assurance and assessment for all teachers.

Schools offering statutory induction to Early Career Teachers will need to register to an Appropriate Body. There is a cost for the AB package of support, and as a Teaching School Hub, we are able to offer both the AB and the ECF service. This golden package of support allows us to offer a 'one stop shop' for new entrants to the profession. This package will include access to the fully funded ECT programme in partnership with Education Development Trust alongside the AB service and package of support.

It is statutory that all Early Career Teachers have access to an ECF/ECT package and are registered with an Appropriate Body.

From September 2021, the AB role is expanding to reflect the expectation that every new teacher has access to an ECF based induction. ABs will be expected to check that teachers are receiving a programme of support and training based on the ECF, alongside the other quality assurance checks that they do. The DfE is referring to this as “ECF-fidelity checking” - ie checking that an induction programme is faithful to the ECF.

The AB role, and the level of fidelity checking, will vary depending on the induction route a school has chosen:

- i. For schools who have enrolled on the provider-led programme, the AB does not need to carry out fidelity checks. This is because the providers of the programme will be subject to separate quality assurance through Ofsted and contract management to ensure their training provides fidelity to the ECF. This is referred to as the Full Induction Programme (FIP).
- ii. Where schools choose to deliver the high quality DfE materials or design their own induction programme using the ECF, the AB will be expected to check that the support and training being provided is faithful to the ECF and that all parties have sacrosanct time set aside in order for the programme to be delivered as intended. This is referred to as the Core Induction Programme (CIP) or the school-based programme.
